

SB 1171 (Negrete McLeod)- Regulatory Boards: Operations

Introduced February 18, 2010, Amended in Senate April 5, 2010

This bill creates Revises and recasts sunset review law to remove the provision that a board automatically by operation of law become a bureau under Department of Consumer Affairs if the board sunsets, and instead provides for the removal of a board's members, and appointment of a new successor board upon the sunset date. Removes references to the Joint Committee for Boards, Commissions and Consumer Protection, and instead authorizes the appropriate standing policy committees of the Legislature to carry out the sunset review functions. Terminates the terms of office of each board member and bureau chief within the Department upon an unspecified sunset date, and authorizes successor board members and bureau chiefs to be appointed, as specified.

This bill is sponsored by the Author to update and streamline the sunset review process. The Author states that the bill revises the sunset process in two significant ways: First, by providing that when a professional licensing board in the Department of Consumer Affairs becomes inoperative or is repealed, a successor board is created to succeed to, and be vested with all of the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, and jurisdiction of the prior board. In effect, this bill makes reconstitution of a licensing board automatic, rather than having the board transform into a bureau under the Department.; Second, by providing that the standing policy committees of the Legislature may conduct sunset review hearings, and removing references to the Joint Committee on Boards Commissions and Consumer Protection.

The current law regarding what happens when a licensing board sunsets is part of what has been referred to as the "Sunset Review" process. That law provides for the periodic oversight review of the need for continued state licensing and regulation of a profession and the effectiveness of the administration of the licensing law by the licensing board. These provisions were enacted in 1994. It was the intent of the Legislature at that time that all existing and proposed consumer-related boards or categories of licensed professionals be subject to a review on a four-year cycle, unless circumstances warranted a longer or shorter interval with respect to a given board.

The sunset review process relating to the sunset of a licensing board is in part built on an assumption in law, that if a board is operating poorly, and lesser measures have been or appear to be ineffective in rectifying the problems, the board should be allowed to sunset and the administration of the licensing act would be done more efficiently and effectively if the board becomes a bureau under the Department.

However, public input, accountability, and transparency are all potentially lost through a bureau governance structure instead of a board governance structure.

Under a bureau, the bureau chief is in charge and reports to the Director of the Department. In bureaus, many decisions are made through a closed-door administrative management structure.

Under a board governance structure, on the other hand, board members are appointed and hold public meetings. The board members appoint an executive officer who manages the operations of the board and reports to the board members in public. Some boards have members that are subject to confirmation by the Senate. This process is deemed to be more accountable and transparent, and offers the public more opportunity to participate.

Reconstitution Rather than Elimination. In recent years, when problems have been identified with a variety of boards, the most effective means of achieving resolution and change has been by reconstitution of the board. This essentially creates a new board by allowing appointing authorities to appoint new members to replace problem members and to reappoint effective members. The new board may then replace the executive officer if the executive officer has been ineffective in managing the operations. This has happened with the Dental Board, the Board of Optometry, the Acupuncture Board, and the Athletic Commission in recent years and has proven to be an effective method for initiating needed changes

The Author believes that the Legislature will be able to effectively make changes to a licensing board through reconstitution of the membership of the board. This bill would make reconstitution automatic when a board becomes inoperative.

The bill also transfers the responsibilities for Sunset Review from the Joint Committee to the standing policy Committees of the Legislature and removes references to the Joint Committee. This is in part a cost-savings measure which would eliminate the costs for an additional legislative committee. Furthermore, over the years, the sunset review process has relied heavily upon the expertise and staffing of the standing legislative committees for much of the sunset review work that the Joint Committee performs.

The Author believes that transferring the responsibilities to the policy committees is an appropriate alternative if the Joint Committee is eliminated and an appropriate next step in the maturation of the Sunset Review process.

The bill also reflects efforts recently announced by the Assembly Speaker and Senate President pro Tem to re-invigorate the Sunset Review process to evaluate the effectiveness of boards and commissions and provide continued oversight of these agencies.

AMENDED IN SENATE APRIL 5, 2010

SENATE BILL

No. 1171

Introduced by Senator Negrete McLeod

February 18, 2010

An act to amend Sections 22, 473.1, 473.15, 473.2, 473.3, 473.4, 473.6, and 9882 of, to add Sections 473.12 and 473.7 to, to repeal Sections 473.16 and 473.5 of, and to repeal and add Sections 101.1 and 473 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to regulatory boards.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 1171, as amended, Negrete McLeod. Regulatory boards: operations.

Existing law creates various regulatory boards, as defined, within the Department of Consumer Affairs, with board members serving specified terms of office. Existing law generally makes the regulatory boards inoperative and repealed on specified dates, unless those dates are deleted or extended by subsequent legislation, and subjects these boards that are scheduled to become inoperative and repealed as well as other boards in state government, as specified, to review by the Joint Committee on Boards, Commissions, and Consumer Protection. Under existing law, that committee, following a specified procedure, recommends whether the board should be continued or its functions modified. Existing law requires the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Osteopathic Medical Board of California to submit certain analyses and reports to the committee on specified dates and requires the committee to review those boards and hold hearings as specified, and to make certain evaluations and findings.

This bill would abolish the Joint Committee on Boards, Commissions, and Consumer Protection and would authorize the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature to carry out its duties. The bill would terminate the terms of office of each board member or bureau chief within the department on unspecified dates and would authorize successor board members and bureau chiefs to be appointed, as specified. The bill would also subject interior design organizations, the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, the Osteopathic Medical Board of California, the Tax Education Council, ~~and the Naturopathic Medical Committee, and the certification of common interest development managers and massage therapists~~ to review on unspecified dates. The bill would authorize the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature to review the boards, bureaus, or entities that are scheduled to have their board membership or bureau chief so terminated or reviewed, as specified, and would authorize the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature to investigate their operations and to hold specified public hearings. The bill would require a board, bureau, or entity, if its annual report contains certain information, to post that report on its Internet Web site. The bill would make other conforming changes.

23 self-serving to the profession, industry, or individuals being 24 regulated by the board.

25 (10) Whether the scope of practice of the regulated profession
26 or occupation contributes to the highest utilization of personnel
27 and whether entry requirements encourage affirmative action.
