President's Message

Stephen C. Phillips, J.D., Psy.D., Board of Psychology

Welcome to the winter 2019 edition of the California Board of Psychology (board) Journal!

The mission of the board is to advance quality psychological services for Californians by ensuring ethical and legal practice and supporting the evolution of the profession. Our values are transparency, integrity, consumer protection, inclusiveness, excellence, and accountability.

At the time of this writing, board staff and board members are preparing for the final two-day quarterly board meeting of the year in San Diego. As in the recent past, most of the first day will be devoted to hearings on petitions for reinstatement by former licensees and petitions to modify probation. Due to the volume of petition hearings, the board will hold one three-day meeting in 2019 to help keep up with the volume of petitions while allowing adequate time to address policy considerations, legislation, and the regulatory process. As with all the board's quarterly meetings, the meeting will be webcast (subject to the vagaries of technology). The recordings also can be viewed after the meeting on the board's website.

One of the most significant issues being addressed by the board is the Enhanced EPPP, formerly known as the EPPP Part 2, the proposed national licensing exam as reconceived and developed by the Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB), which owns the exam. At our last meeting, the board resolved to move forward with a draft regulation, contingent on further consideration of ASPPB's responses to inquiries as to the timing of the implementation dates for the Enhanced EPPP and the proposed cost to applicants of taking the two-part test. Although we have now had an initial response from ASPPB, questions continue to be raised as to adoption of the exam in California, given ASPPB's uncertain time frame for mandatory adoption by all jurisdictions and the evolving cost structure of the now two-part exam. License portability may be dependent on adoption, an important consideration for current and prospective licensees. The new skill portion of the Enhanced EPPP is designed to address the overall competency of prospective licensees, a crucial consideration in maximizing the protection of consumers.

Other issues to be addressed involve the board's legislative agenda, including the impact of proposed bills on consumers and psychological services, the ongoing evolution of a comprehensive overhaul of the pathways to licensure, our efforts at outreach and education, and review of the enforcement process. It is our continued hope that petitioners, licensees, consumers, and other stakeholders will avail themselves of the opportunity to demystify the process and better acquaint themselves with the board's agenda and efforts.

On Dec. 3-4, the board held its five-year strategic planning meeting in Napa. As with all our noticed meetings, it was open to the public. It is an important step in setting major agenda items for future action and anticipating the allocation of resources.

As the holidays draw near, the board wishes you the best in the year ahead. We continue to be grateful to all the board members and our capable staff for their service to the state and the consumers of psychological services. It is only through your participation in the process that we can hope to establish the best policies for the future of psychological services.

Fee Schedule for License/Registration Renewals

By Marjean DuPree, Central Services

As of July 1, 2018, there was a change to the fee amounts for license renewal and late fees. Please be sure to include the correct amount when making your renewal payment.

Psychologist Active Status

Biennial renewal fee	$430
Delinquency fee	$150

Psychologist Inactive Status

Biennial renewal fee	$60
Delinquency fee	$20

Psychological Assistant

Renewal	$40
Delinquency fee	$20

A renewal must be accompanied by the delinquency fee if payment is not made by the expiration date unless it is for renewal of a psychological assistant registration and that payment is not made within 30 days of the expiration date. For those that are mailed, the renewal must be postmarked by the expiration date. Please keep in mind that even though it is in the mail, it could be three to six weeks before the fee(s) are processed and your renewal is updated.

Renewal using BreEZe online (<https://www.breeze.ca.gov>) is the easiest way to avoid delinquency fees. We recommend that you make every attempt to renew when your renewal notice is received (approximately 75 days prior to expiration). If there are problems, that will allow time to resolve any issues before the expected expiration date.

National Suicide Hotline Improvement Act

By Richard McKeon, Ph.D., Chief, Suicide Prevention Branch, Center for Mental Health Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

On Aug. 14, 2018, President Donald Trump signed into law the National Suicide Hotline Improvement Act. This legislation mandates a study to (1) evaluate the feasibility of designating a three-digit dialing code for a national suicide prevention and mental health crisis hotline system; and (2) the effectiveness of the current National Suicide Prevention Lifeline (1-800-273-TALK), including how well it addresses the needs of veterans. The Federal Communications Commission will be required to submit a report to Congress, including a recommended dialing code, a cost-benefit analysis comparing the three-digit code to the current lifeline number, and cost estimates for service providers, states, and localities. A three-digit dialing code has the potential for being more easily remembered during a crisis and this could lead to more ready access to crisis hotline services for many.

At SAMHSA, improving community crisis services is a priority with several recommendations from the Interdepartmental Serious Mental Illness Coordinating Committee's report to Congress focusing on improving crisis care nationwide. These include establishing national standards for crisis care and assuring a continuum of community crisis services. In a document entitled "Crisis Now" from the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention, it is recommended that every community have access to mobile outreach services, community crisis stabilization services, and a National Suicide Prevention Lifeline crisis center that can act as the hub of the system and follow people in crisis, so they don't fall through the cracks with potentially tragic results.

In 2018, the 160 crisis centers that participate in the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline answered more than 2 million calls. Currently, there are six crisis centers in California that answer calls from the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline. The lifeline automatically connects callers to their closest local crisis center unless they choose to press "1" to be connected to the Veterans Crisis Line, or to press "2" to be connected to a Spanish language subnetwork. The largest number of calls are answered by Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services in Los Angeles, which was also the first suicide hotline service in the United States and has been serving its community ever since. Local crisis centers like Didi Hirsch are the foundation for the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline and for community-based crisis care.

How Much Time is Left on Your Psychological Assistant Registration?

By Stephanie Cheung, Licensing Manager

The board often receives inquiries from psychological assistants who wonder how much time is left on their registrations before reaching the cumulative total of six years, or 72 months, limitation of registration period (set forth in the board's regulations at title 16 of the California Code of Regulations, section 1391.1(b)). Currently, other than noting the dates of a registration manually, there is not an easy and quick way to calculate the length of the registration period. When the board receives an inquiry, our staff conducts a record search and compiles information from the current registration as well as all the registration numbers a psychological assistant held in the past. Then staff perform a manual calculation, noting the beginning of the registration issuance date, the renewal effective date, and eliminate any overlapping periods prior to letting the psychological assistant know about how many days remain before reaching the six years' limitation of registration period.

Considering the increased interest in keeping track of the registration period and to provide a more efficient way to communicate this information to our registrants, the board has been working with the Department of Consumer Affairs to develop a report that will include the registration period for all current psychological assistants. Once the report is complete, the board plans to post it on its website on a regular basis. The board will alert psychological assistants once the report becomes available.

Attention Large Employers

By Alita Bernal, Chair, Outreach and Education Committee

Is it time for your employees to renew their psychologist licenses? If yes, the board would like to inform employers of our online renewal process, which significantly reduces processing times for license renewal. We hope that you will encourage your employees to take advantage of this very convenient tool to renew their psychology license online at: <https://www.breeze.ca.gov>.

Typically, processing times for paper renewal applications through the Department of Consumer Affairs' processing center can take up to six weeks. The online renewal system will allow licensees to renew within 24-48 hours if there aren't deficiencies with the application. The board's website has additional tips for psychologists to ensure a timely renewal at https://www.psychology.ca.gov/licensees/timely_renewal.pdf.

Your employees can also use the online BreZE system to update their address of record or to request a duplicate pocket license if it is lost or stolen. This ensures that licensees will get timely updates and information about their license.

Benefits to Employees of Renewing Online:

- Fast and efficient renewal process.
- Conveniently update your contact information while renewing.
- Securely pay your renewal fee with a credit card.
- Instantly receive an email receipt and summary of your renewal application for your records.

Regulatory Update

Below are the pending regulatory changes for the California Board of Psychology (board) and their status in the formal rulemaking process.

Title 16, California Code of Regulations (CCR) sections 1391.1, 1391.2, 1391.5, 1391.6, 1391.8, 1391.10, 1391.11, 1391.12, 1392.1—Psychological Assistants

Status: Initial review phase. This phase includes reviews by the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) and the Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency (BCSH) before a formal Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is filed with the Office of Administrative Law.

This regulatory package does the following:

Conforms the CCR to statutory changes made in Senate Bill 1193 (Hill, Chapter 484, Statutes of 2016), which requires psychological assistants to obtain a single registration with the board to be renewed annually. This registration will be independent from their supervisor(s) or employer(s) but does not remove the requirement that psychological assistants practice only under supervision. Additionally, the proposed regulatory language removes duplication as to who pays the psychological assistant registration fee, as this is already specified in statute.

Title 16, CCR section 1396.8—Standards of Practice for Telehealth

Status: Initial review phase. This phase includes reviews by DCA and BCSH before a formal Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is filed with the Office of Administrative Law.

This regulatory package does the following:

Establishes standards of practice for the delivery of psychological health services via telehealth to an originating site in this state to a patient or client who is a resident of California who is temporarily located outside of this state, and to clients or patients who initiate psychological health care services while in this state but who may not be a resident of this state. These standards would apply to licensed California psychologists and psychology trainees.

Title 16 CCR sections 1381.9, 1397.60, 1397.61, 1397.62, 1397.67—Continuing Professional Development

Status: Initial review phase. This phase includes reviews by DCA and BCSH before formal Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is filed with the Office of Administrative Law.

This regulatory package does the following:

Changes the continuing education guidelines and requirements that must be completed by licensed psychologists from the continuing education (CE) model to the broader continuing professional development (CPD) model.

Title 16 CCR sections 1381.9, 1381.10, 1392—Retired License, Renewal of Expired License, Psychologist Fees

Status: Initial review phase. This phase includes reviews by DCA and BCSH before formal Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is filed with the Office of Administrative Law.

This regulatory package does the following:

This adds provisions that would allow a licensee to apply to have their license placed in a retired status and defines the requirements for application.

Assembly Bill 2968 (Levine)—Psychotherapist-Client Relationship: Victims of Sexual Behavior and Sexual Contact: Informational Brochure

This bill updates and modernizes statutory provisions relating to DCA's informational brochure for victims of psychotherapist-patient sexual impropriety titled "Professional Therapy Never Includes Sex" by removing obsolete language, including other recognized forms of sexual exploitation and behavior facilitated by modern modes of communication, and more clearly articulating to consumers the most effective course of action when reporting these types of allegations. This bill also adds a new threshold for when a psychotherapist is legally required to provide the brochure to a client.

He acted as a forensic psychologist in writing said letter/report, but failed to conform to the American Psychological Association's Specialty Guidelines for Forensic Psychologists in that the "facts" contained in the letter/report were based entirely on information provided by the patient's ex-wife and were not corroborated by a second source.
